Canyons and Waterfalls

West Bass River Falls

There is no easy way into this falls... the old Economy dirt road may require a 4x4 vehicle, depending on the weather and time of year. Getting to the falls itself requires hard bushwhacking upstream for a few kilometres on the river, and some vertical climbing.

Stunning views from Moose River. A hiking sensation you and your entire family can enjoy.

National Aboriginal Day ~ June 21ST

Much of the tapestry that forms Nova Scotia's history has been woven with the traditions, culture and legends belonging to the First Nation peoples, the Mi'kmaq who continue to add richness and texture to our lives. The public is urged to celebrate that rich history everyday of the year, particularly at the Glooscap Heritage Centre where it comes to life in many sights and sounds.

Each June 21st, residents and visitors are encouraged to pause and pay it particular attention during National Aboriginal Day celebrations that are being held across the province.

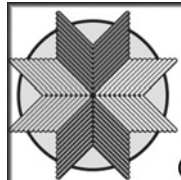

In Central Nova Scotia, traditional drummers, dancers and artisans will celebrate National Aboriginal Day at the Glooscap Heritage Centre. The centre is located at 65 Treaty Trail in Millbrook First Nation, near Truro. Passersby on Highway 102 can't miss the 40-foot statue of Glooscap which stands adjacent to the centre.

Celebrations will take place from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. June 21 is also Father's Day. Organizers of Aboriginal Day activities are promoting the events as enjoyable, culturally rich family outings.

At the Glooscap Heritage Centre, there will be magic for the children and a barbecue for everyone to enjoy. Dad will also have a chance to win a recliner. The Glooscap Heritage Centre is known as a pre-eminent Aboriginal tourism and education facility in Atlantic Canada for Mi'kmaq heritage. It offers an innovative, multimedia presentation, an audio exhibit to learn a bit of the Mi'kmaq language, and displays of tools, clothing, quill and bead work, and much more.

The centre, which also houses a visitor information centre and gift shop with aboriginal focus, is open year-round. On May 15, it will begin summer hours of Monday to Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Submitted by Devin Trefry
