Good-bye May, Hello June

May left a world of beauty
With flowers everywhere.
Blossoms underneath her feet
And blossoms in her hair.
Apple blossoms show her passing
As do cherry blossoms white
And June who follows after
Adds more beauty to our sight.

With lilacs by the armful
And violets underfoot
Roses twined within her hair
As humming birds flit about
Robins nesting in the trees
As swallows dive and glide
There is life and there is beauty
In the quiet countryside.
