

Canada Day

Celebrated along the Shoreline

Photos by Linda Harrington

Rhonda Adams cuts up the Canada Day cake, donated by the Masstown Market.

Masstown

Two year old Zachary Baird thought he could do a better job face painting Haley Adams than volunteer Paula Weatherby.

Gail Hines with granddaughters Ava and Emma Purdy.

Keith Baas was showing Lauren Sooksom and Mya Smith-Digout how to use some unique walking shoes. Keith says that children have a lot of fun with these in Holland.

RCMP Constable Bergeron gives Christian Huntley and his mother Ann a tour of her cruiser.

Kids running for the candy scramble received a wet surprise from atop the fire truck but they seemed to enjoy the cool down on a sunny Canada Day.

Bass River

Seven year old Hannah Lewis gets help from Bass River Fire Chief Alfred Grue while Artie Dickie (one of the Brigade's longest members) controls the water.

A polar bear in Bass River! There was a rare sighting at the entrance to the Veteran's Memorial Gardens on Canada Day. A very life-like polar bear had wandered on the grounds. Rumor has it that Dr. Karen Ewing may know where this endangered species is hanging out when not wandering through Bass River.

Gordon Lewis, of Bass River and his team of horses Woody and Max, gave people a pleasant wagon ride.

Katelyn Burns paints a colorful creation on the cheek of Hillary Cox.

Sweet treat! Jason Flemming hands Chloe Faulkner a cotton candy.

Bill, Carl and Mike Elliott provided crowd pleasing entertainment in front of the Bass River Historical Museum.

Nathan Tower looks worried as 2 year old Leo Foster takes aim at the Dunk Tank. Leo enjoyed the Canada day celebrations with his father Kevin.
