

Five Islands Lighthouse was designated as a Municipal Heritage Property during 100th Anniversary Celebrations on Sunday, July 14th

Phil Morris didn't seem to mind getting cooled off for a good cause.

Beautiful view, sunny skies and toe tapping music by Glenda MacBurnie and gang.

Cyrus MacBurnie was the first to man the light back in the early 1900's.

Hilary Paquet, Colchester Parks and Trails Co-ordinator, cuts the celebration cake.

MLA Karen Casey congratulates Gloria Lewis, President of the Five Islands Lighthouse Preservation Society, on the 100th Anniversary of the Lighthouse.

JoAnn Hunter paints adds a splash of sunshine onto four year old Jake Simpson.

Congratulations on the 100th Anniversary & Heritage Designation of the Five Islands Lighthouse

A large green well drilling rig stands in a field. To its left is a white pickup truck with "Baird's Well Drilling" and the number "893-2056" written on it. The background shows a body of water and distant hills.

We are pleased to have drilled the well for Five Islands Lighthouse Park!
