

Masstown Community News

By Christine Urqubart

Summer is well under way and it is so wonderful to look around us and see all the green of leaves and grass. Farmers are busy cutting hay - again! Fresh vegetables are now available at the Masstown Market and for many of us, in our gardens as well. We need to be grateful that we live in such a good community with healthy soil to grow our plants.

We have had some travelers this past month! Cecil and Dotty Jennings were in Ottawa where they met up with son, Brian & family from Toronto. He took them to his family's "chalet" where, to Cecil & Dotty's surprise son, Glen & Amy had flown up from Masstown to join in celebrating their 60th Wedding Anniversary! Congratulations Cecil and Dotty!

Scott Trenholme, son of Rosemary Baas, is home from Ontario and has his camper parked in Marina Fisher's driveway! Scott and his family are visiting lots of family and friends. Joan Ewart was in St. John NB visiting her sister-in-law for the Canada Day weekend, thanks to her son, Murray who drove her up there. Joan is still recovering from her broken hip but is definitely on the mend!

WILSONS

Wilson's - Where Are They Now?

By Maurice Rees

The Wilson's family have awarded 79 scholarships since beginning the program in 2009, during the company's 100th anniversary celebrations. At the 9th annual ceremony held on July 12th, Leslie Wilson provided an update on some of the previous recipients.

2009 - Chris Caskey: Marine Engineer at Weir Mineral Canada, working towards Professional Engineer designation. He's part of the project team tasked with the complete design and procurement of large-scale barge projects for customers throughout the Alberta oil sands.

2009 - Katelyn Munro: Currently working at the Colchester East Hants Health Centre as a kinesiologist. She is also part of the coaching staff for the Canadian women's softball team which is heading to Winnipeg this summer. She is also still working at Robie St 1 shift a week!

2010 - Micah Brown: Took Mechanical Engineering at Memorial. He's now living in Montreal working as an engineer in the music industry. And touring Europe with his own band.

2011 - Benjamin Graeme: Production Assistant at CTV Atlantic.

2011 - Laura Wisener: After graduating with first class standing at UPEI with a Bachelor of Science in Foods & Nutrition, she took a year off to back pack. She's now entering her second year of a Respiratory Therapy program in Ontario.

2012 - Tyler Ramsey: Took Computer programming at Holland College and is currently a program analyst at Deltaware in Charlottetown PEI.

2012 - Brandon Langley: Working for Poole Works Ltd, local excavation company. Just got married last week.

2014 - Lukas Geldart: Currently participating in Engineering Co-Op Program. Set to graduate in May 2018 with a Mechanical Engineer degree

2014 - William McGuigan: Has one more year in business at UPEI with a focus on finance. He holds the position of Vice President finance for the UPEI student union and is still picking up a shift from time to time at the Belvedere Esso.

2014 - Paige Gallant: Finished her 3rd year in Mechanical Engineering and is currently working as a research assistant at Intelligent Controls Laboratory -UNB.

2016 - Carter MacDougall: Just graduated from Aircraft Turbine Engine Repair and Overhaul Technology at Holland College. He's been hired full time at Vector Aerospace.

2016 - Matthew Penman: Finished first yr of a steam fitting diploma at NSCC. He is also still employed with Wilsons Fuel at the Cole Harbor Esso.

2016 - Wayne Desmond: Completed first year at St Mary's and working at the New Glasgow ESSO for summer. Liam King - also continuing his education at St Thomas and working at Fredericton ESSO.

I spent a week in Vancouver, first visiting my cousin Donna and her husband Danny Ishada in Richmond. Then I attended the National United Church Women's Conference at UBC - Totem Park. There were 326 women there from all across Canada! What an experience! I am looking forward to talking about this as program for our Masstown UCW when we meet in September.

I also got to spend a day with a friend from "down east", Saralynn Faulkner as well as her mother Louise. We played darts together many years ago so it was nice to do some catching up.

Condolences go out this month to Chris Rogers and his family on the death of his half-brother, Ralph Rogers. Condolences also go out to Sally Jennings and family on the death of her mother, Ev Jenex.
