Cape d'Or Lighthouse to be Moved

By Taylor Redmond
 The replica lighthouse that sits at the parking lot of Cape d'Or is looking for a new home. The lighthouse was built in the 90's by volunteers, Jim Webster and Doug Barber for Advocate District Development Association, ADDA.

The replica lighthouse that sits at the parking lot of Cape d'Or is looking for a new home. The lighthouse was built in the 90's by volunteers, Jim Webster and Doug Barber for Advocate District Development Association, ADDA.

It was built on site at the parking lot of Cape d'Or, it was used for a Visitor Information Centre and public wash-rooms. The lighthouse has long since been retired and now has to be relocated. Anyone interested in taking on ownership and moving the lighthouse off the property should contact ADDA president Marchel Strong. This is an, "as is-where is" project. The building will require repairs as it has been sitting empty for several years. The building is scheduled to be demolished in September so any interested parties should contact Marchel ASAP. This will be a 'first come-first serve' opportunity. The association is hoping that someone will be able to step up and give the lighthouse a new home. There is history and great community spirit in the lighthouse, unfortunately the association is not in a position to move it. The lighthouse has great character and with some TLC could have great possibilities. Moving the building will be the challenge; creativity and spirit will be required.

Age of Sail Heritage Festival Weekend

By Oralee O'Byrne
 Friday Dick McAllister gave a very informative presentation on the copper mining that once took place at Cape D'or to an interested crowd during the Age of sail Heritage Festival Weekend held July 20-21. The Murder Mystery Dinner Theater written by Oralee O'Byrne was a fun filled delicious event. The meal featured Roast Pork with mango pineapple salsa and delicious no-bake strawberry cheesecakes. The actors were all local volunteers as were the cooks and kitchen staff and it was a fun filled evening! Long-time volunteers Jude and Todd McCall were honored with a lovely Arlene Collins print as they are moving from the area. Their dedication to the society will be missed. To finish up the weekend a special menu Strawberry Brunch was held on Sunday with guests enjoying. The menu included omelets, waffles, crepes and specialty desserts. "It was a very successful weekend and also one of our funniest. Organizers thank everyone who donated prizes and food as well all our volunteers who helped make it a success.

The room was full for the Age of Sail Murder Mystery Dinner Theater written by Oralee O'Byrne. (Submitted)
