

Many volunteers were helping out at the Debert Military Museum's Turkey Supper on October 29th. (Harrington Photo)

Mateya Brine and Olivia Putnam (right) kept the dessert table well supplied during the Debert Military Museum's Turkey Supper. (Harrington Photo)

Grammie Marlene Whiting enjoyed a long walk with her grandchildren (Colin, Matthew, Anthony and Makayla Isenor) before attending the Debert Military Museum's Turkey Supper on October 29th. (Harrington Photo)

MacCaull Villa Notes

By Hazel Hill

Our Hallowe'en party, held on Friday, October 28th, was a great success and enjoyed by all. On Hallowe'en night, we had about 80 visitors both big and small.

On Wednesday, November 2nd Shirley Ryan and Jennie Robinson travelled to New Glasgow and while there visited Lydia at Glen Haven Manor. They took Lydia out to dinner, that she is doing well, and they have a great visit with her. On Saturday, November 12th Shirley, Ruth and Kevin attended the Hunter's breakfasts in Londonderry.

Allen Rouliston and Gary Rogers, who have been patients in Colchester Regional Hospital, are now home. Sorry to report Helen Patriquin is still in hospital.

Shirley Ryan, Danny and Tammy Garnham, Little Dyke

attended the Remembrance Day service in Bass River. Danny and Tammy's son was with the cadets there. In spite of the inclement weather, all areas held their services, except they were moved to indoor locations. The crowds are getting larger every year, and it seems more young people are taking part.

On November 13th, Bud and Linda took Bernice for a drive to Barney's River and on the way back they visited with Lydia at Glen Haven Manor. She is doing well and enjoyed their visit. Congratulations to Lydia's granddaughter, Julie Hudson, daughter of George and Betty Hudson on her graduation from college in Edmonton. She is employed there. George and Betty attended the graduation.

On November 6h the Logan family celebrated their mother's Phyllis (Lamb) Logan 94th birthday and Uncle's Maurice Lamb's 93rd in Parrsboro. Their other Uncle, Harold Lamb, age 91 was away and couldn't attend. The three represent 278 years of living, and the brothers still live on their own and drive. Maurice just last week was up on his roof cleaning his chimney. Cumberland County has many residents who achieve marvellous ages, we all can only hope for such lofty goals of age and health. Happy birthday to all our seniors. (Lawrence R. Nicoll Photo)

Truro To Host NOVA MUSIC WEEK IN 2014

The Truro and Colchester economy can expect a $900,000 shot in the arm when Truro hosts Nova Music Week in 2014. The town was officially named an upcoming host community at the music industry's annual awards ceremony in Yarmouth on Sunday night.

CoRDA, The Town of Truro, CNTA, The Marigold Centre, The Civic Centre Committee, The Chamber of Commerce and other partners have been working together since July of this year to help attract the signature event.

Creston Rudolph at Destination Colchester says it's a big win for Truro-Colchester, with visitor spending on hotels, shopping and restaurants coming in at close to $485 per visitor, and approximately 33 jobs being created by Nova Scotia Music Week. Those estimates come from the economic impact study which was conducted in 2010 following the 2nd of three Yarmouth-based music week events.

"For those people who don't know or aren't familiar with Nova Scotia Music Week, they'll definitely be much more aware of it in the months leading up to November of 2014 and during the event itself," says Mr. Rudolph. "The actual dates for Truro are November 6th through to the 9th of that year. We're expecting healthy attendance numbers based on our central location, since we'll be drawing from both ends of the province, and internationally."

Mr. Rudolph says based on Truro's location and reputation, we can expect close to one-thousand national and international delegates at the 2014 Music Week event in Truro.

Liverpool and Sydney will get a shot at hosting the event in 2012 and 2013 respectively.

ADHD Agreement Renewed

Chignecto-Central Regional School Board and the Colchester East Hants Health Authority renewed their Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder Clinic Partnership Agreement on October 14, 2011. This year marks the 10th anniversary of the of the ADHD agreement between the school board and the health authority.

Over the last 10 years, health and education professionals have worked together through the ADHD clinic to assist over 270 students and their families. The clinic provides screening, assessment, diagnosis, treatment, training and research services for children age six to 12 in the Nova and Cobequid families of schools (Colchester County and East Hants).

Historical Society Seeking Heritage Award Nominations

The Colchester Historical Society is currently seeking award nominations from the public presentation of Heritage Awards as part of the Heritage Night Celebration on February 23, 2011.

Heritage Award recipients are individuals or groups who strive to promote or preserve Colchester heritage, whether through their writing or a built heritage project, with the use of multimedia or in some other way.

Nomination forms are available at the Museum on 29 Young Street or www.colchesterhistoreum.ca. The nomination should include all contact information as well as a description of the work. Photographs and other related documents should also be included.

Nomination forms are to be submitted before January 15, 2012 to:
Colchester Historical Society,
29 Young Street, P.O. Box 412, Truro NS, B2N 5C5

Spread the news
of your Community

The Shoreline
Journal

Deadline for the January issue of

is December 13

Lawrence R. Nicoll
NOVA SCOTIA LANDSCAPE PHOTOGRAPHER
Parrsboro – Nova Scotia
902-254-3334 or LRN@ns.sympatico.ca

Local Landscape photographs make wonderful gifts for birthdays, Christmas and retirement

Choose from samples at:
www.LRNphotographic.ca

LRN PHOTOGRAPHIC SERVICES

ROADSIDE

For a complete listing of Up-Coming Events and Specials
www.roadsidewillies.ca

27 Jennifer Drive,
Bible Hill
902.843.3486

WILLIES
Smokehouse & Bar
Casual dining with a touch of class

LIONEL LEWIS

Trucking, Grading & Excavating

379 Edgewood Rd.
RR #1, Bass River, NS
B0M 1B0

Phone: 902-647-2644
Fax: 902-647-2413
Cell: 902-899-5945