Advocate Celebrated Remembrance Day on November 4th

By Terry Ann Gulliver

On November 4th the Advocate District Development Association held it's annual Remembrance Day Service at the Log Building in Advocate Harbour. MWO Max (Randy) Davis of C.F.B. Halifax originally from New Salem, was the guest speaker.

He spoke of his 34 years in the military, his tours of Bosnia and his tours of Afghanistan. How proud he is to be a Canadian Soldier and how proud he is of his country and how lucky we are to have a free country to live in.

MP Scott Armstrong and MLA Jamie Baillie also attended the service and thanked Max for his service for our country. Our service is always the Sunday before as 1/2 the population belongs to the Legion in Parrsboro and the other 1/2 belong to the Joggins Legion and they can attend those services.

EDITORS NOTE: It was a disappointment for a special poem from Florence Adams to arrive after the November issue had gone to press, especially since her poetry had been a monthly feature in the Shoreline Journal for so many years. However, realizing there was going to be multiple pages of Remembrance Day ceremonies from around the area, I felt it appropriate to include her poem on these pages. Maurice.

November 11, 2012

We'll gather round the monument
To honour those who fought.
And hope the men who died in war
Haven't died for naught.

Those men in khaki paid the price
To free the world for others
As family friend and children
For sister and for brothers.

Age mattered not to those who went
They thought that they were right
And so they went to fight.

We have to do our very best,
And realize the cost.
They paid for our freedom
As we honour those we lost.
