Debert Baptist Church After-School Program

By Linda Harrington

"We provide care and a snack for whoever needs us, whether one child or 20, numbers don't matter," says Shelia Hughes, as she prepares an afternoon snack for ten children in the Church hall.

Debert Baptist Church is helping out parents in the community by providing a complimentary afterschool program five days a week, Monday to Friday, from 2:30- 5:30PM. Children have a safe, secure place to go until their parents get home from work and they receive a healthy afternoon snack, crafts and play time.

There are twenty-two children currently registered and Shelia says there is an average 6 to 12 children coming to the program each day. "The doors are always open, even if there is only one child who needs a place to go," she says.

The Debert Baptist Church has been sponsoring the program, with assistance from several fund raisers. The Men of Honour recently held a fund raising breakfast and there is a supper coming up. Funds go to assist with paying program personnel, purchasing snacks and craft supplies.

Debert Baptist Church would appreciate any monetary donations, or donation of craft supplies, to keep the program running.
