Wentworth Celebrates Remembrance Day

By Hope Bridgewater

During the Remembrance Day service at the Wentworth Cenotaph, a large crowd gathered to pay respects. Many laid wreaths in honour of the residents in Wentworth who have served, have now passed away, and whose names are carved on the black granite stone of the Cenotaph. The Wentworth Community Development Council and the Wentworth Fireman's Recreation Centre hosted the event, with coordinator Jocelyn Morris presiding.

The ceremony at the Cenotaph began with opening remarks by Jocelyn Morris, a prayer by Father Keith Billard, and the singing of O Canada. The Last Post (symbolizing death) was beautifully played on the trumpet by Carmen Baker. Carol Hyslop lent to Carmen Baker the trumpet owned by the late Bob Hyslop who for many years had played on his trumpet both The Last Post and Reveille at this Cenotaph.

Bob Smith, representing the Royal Canadian Legion, raised the Canadian flag. Jordan Sprague, President of the Wentworth Community Development Council, said the Commitment to Remember.

The list of Remembrance Day Wreaths & Crosses and the names of those making the presentations follows: Government of Canada by Constable Maria Boaday; Province of Nova Scotia by Bill Baker; Municipality of Cumberland by Barbara Palmer; Royal Canadian Legion by Bob Smith; Wentworth Volunteer Fire Department by Kevin Sprague; Wentworth Community Development Council by President Jordan

Sprague; Wentworth Recreation Association by Caleb Seymour; Friends of the Old Valley Schoolhouse by Carol Hyslop; Ski Wentworth by Lesley Wilson; Wentworth Community Cap Site and Library by Brenda McLean; Wentworth Learning Centre Cooperative by Director Linda Patriquin; Uncle Milne Patriquin and son John Scott by Margaret Park and daughter Debbie; Grandfather Hershel Stewart by Melanie Sprague and David Lockerby; Sergeant Walton Little by wife Ida and son Ken Little; Bernard Gower by wife Marion and daughter Heather; Bedford Palmer by family and grandson Kyle; Leo Feeley by daughter Patricia and granddaughter Melanie; Ralph Hunt by family and daughter Charlotte; Andy Elliott by son Wayne Elliott; Edgar Archibald by family and his grandchildren; Jerome Crowley, Philip Crowley, and Tommy Giles by sister-in-law Pearl, nieces Judy and Jocelyn, and nephew Mike; Raymond Rushton by family and son Tim; Willard Lynds by son Edison and grandchildren Adrian, Austin, and Cameron; Doug, Gordon and Lorne Henderson by nieces Helen, Sharon, Faye, and Debbie; Lonnie Letcher by family and daughter Shannon; Uncles Alvin, Jimmy, and Fraser Hayman by Linda and Kaye Patriquin; Grandfather Charles Tower and Uncles Ernie and Arthur Clarke by Rick Clarke; Vernon Beebe by son Ward Beebe.

Earlier on Sunday, November 6, an Ecumenical Remembrance service was held at the Wentworth United Church featuring the Wentworth United Church and the Wentworth United Baptist Church, two church ministers (Rev. Jean Ward and Pastor James Smith), two congregations, and members of the Wentworth Volunteer Fire Department.
