

GREAT VILLAGE Remembrance Day

Photos by Linda Harrington

Due to the pandemic a socially distanced Great Village Remembrance Day Service took place at the Cenotaph at 11AM on Nov. 11th, 2020. (Harrington Photos)

Crowds were down significantly this year. Those who did turn out for the Service respected social distancing.

Piper Dan Wesley played a lament during the service.

There were no hymns sung, no parade and no individual wreaths laid but the Service was lovely....Lest We Forget!

Wreaths were already in place at the Cenotaph this year prior to the Service. Logan Spencer read each of the names during the Service.

Fred Richard was the Master of Ceremonies for the Great Village Service of Remembrance.

There was no parade to the Cenotaph this year, so the Legion Color Party stood by their flags.

Memorial flags for WWII Veterans Walter Perrin and Neil Morash hung across from the Cenotaph. Comrade Walter Perrin joined the forces on May 30th, 1941 and he left Halifax Harbour for overseas on Oct. 9th, 1941. Comrade Neil Morash went overseas in July, 1942.
