It's always an exciting time when youth show their talents and participate in community events. Rachel McCarthy added to the festive atmosphere.

Always willing to lend his hand to a community event, Five Islands Fire Chief Glen Davis assumed the role of Old King Cole in a skit. Thanks Glen!

The end of the fall colours and before the snow covers the land is a less interesting time for landscapes. The old masters before colour was common still found lots to photograph. I hope this image of two of the Five Islands achieves some of that beauty. (Lawrence R Nicoll Photo)

MacCaull Villa Notes

By Hazel Hill

Choir members from Faith Baptist Church came on Saturday, December 8th and sang Christmas Carols, with everyone joining in. The evening was enjoyed by all. On Wednesday, December 3rd Mr and Mrs. Russell MacLellan and Jim Yorke came to play music on guitar, organ and banjo and sang some beautiful songs. We always appreciate their time and talents, as we thoroughly enjoy their music and fellowship.

All residents of MacCaull Villa really appreciate the efforts and time from all of the groups and individuals who come to entertain us.

Shannon MacAloney spent Friday in Halifax as the hospital having her check-up. Morris Eagles, who also lives at the Villa had been in the hospital, but is much improved. He is out and about every day either walking or going on his scooter.

Bernice Kaulback's sister, Eva is improving in hospital after having heart surgery. Barb and Art Muise visited with Bernice recently. Bernice and Linda attend the beautiful memorial service at Mattatal's Funeral Home in memory of those who lost loved ones during the year.

We hope everyone is up and about and ready to enjoy their Christmas. To everyone, I and the other residents at the Villa wish everyone a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.
