

Subsea Cable Rehearsal

Continued from page 1

The firm handles all types of jobs from the shore to out on the water. Dredging, excavation, demolition, barge rentals, and tugboat charters are just a few of the many services offered by the company.

The Point Vim is an ocean going tug operated by Davis Shipping Limited of Wesleyville, Newfoundland.

FORCE's visitor centre remains closed to the public, but it may be possible to view activity via webcam: <http://fundy-force.ca/visit/webcam/>

Mother Nature's force can be frightening and totally awesome too. Strong winds did a job on this big tree in front of Bill and Val MacKinnon's place on Belmont Road. Bet that woke them in a hurry, WOW. (Debbie Weatherby Photo)

CCJHS Give From Their Hearts

By Linda Harrington

Arlene Stevens, from the Salvation Army, had a big smile on her face as she accepted the huge pile of gifts and food items from Central Colchester Junior High School (CCJHS). "This is my twelfth year coming here and every year it warms my heart," she told students at an assembly. "You guys are my Santa and I am so grateful. We couldn't support the 85 families, who need our help, without people like you. Every little item makes a big, big difference."

Each class at CCJHS had been collecting gifts and non-perishable food items for Christmas Hampers over the last few weeks. The annual event is a friendly competition between the classes, with the big winner being the families in Colchester County, who

Central Colchester Junior High students and staff gave generously to the Christmas Hamper Program, in partnership with the Salvation Army. (Harrington Photos)

Brent Maberry, Mrs. Fitzgerald and David McCurdy were showing their spirit by wearing ugly Christmas Sweaters to the Christmas Hamper assembly.

Arlene Stevens (center), of the Salvation Army, was thrilled to accept so many wonderful gifts from the CCJHS elves (l to r) Karalynn MacDonald, Ryan Bakker, Nathaniel Singer and Matt Sandeson.

Atlanta Newell, Emily Caddick, Chris Joudrey, Charlotte Wheeldon, Brenda Ryan, Rachael Aikens and Payton Gilby (l to r) were busy organizing the many boxes of donated items.

will be supported by these generous donations. Christmas Hampers have been filled at CCJHS for over 15 years.

CCJHS teacher, Erin Langille, congratulated the students and expressed how proud she was of their efforts. At the back of the gym a giant Christmas tree had been made out of hand prints from each student in the school. "The hands signify all the hands that came together to make the Christmas Hamper experience happen, by working together as a whole," says Mrs. Langille.

Anna Fullerton and Ashton Wood presented a tribute to Nelson Mandela, making reference to his quote, "It always seems impossible until it's done" and how this compares to what the students had accomplished with the Christmas Hamper program. A moment of reflection was held to pay respect to Mr. Mandela.

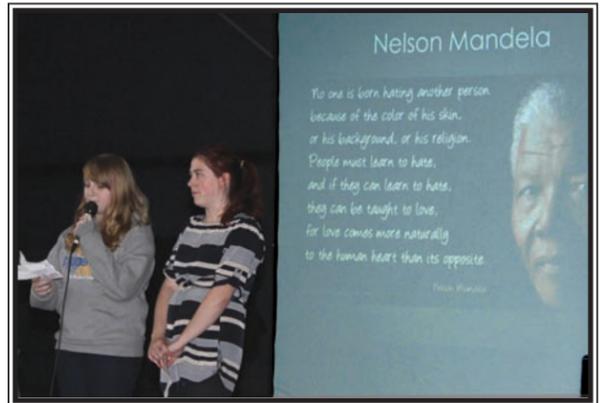

Students ended the assembly with a carol sing, accompanied by Brenda Ryan and David Sandeson on guitars.

CCJHS students in front of the Christmas Tree made from all their hand prints and symbolizing the co-operative effort put in to the Christmas Hampers.

Mr. Patton encouraging students to show their Christmas spirit.

Anna Fullerton and Ashton Wood presented a tribute to Nelson Mandela.

The Deadline for the February issue of The Shoreline Journal is January 21

Learn to Ski and Snowboard on our Magic Carpet!

Packages include:
Lesson, lift ticket and rental equipment.
Offered Daily.

www.skiwentworth.ca

Only $65⁰⁰

(Includes Tax)

Phone: 548-2089

Snow Phone: 548-2808