Bakery & Brewery Opens in Parrsboro

Continued from page 1 helped guide them along the way. The craft brewery settled upon developing four of its own brands, a port, stout, blonde and an ale. There are a total of eight taps, so four are allocated to guest craft brewers. As much as possible, Two Island Brewing will focus on local craft brewers.

Already there are five staff and additional staff will be hired during the peak summer tourist season. The owners wanted to open in late fall, so systems could be refined during the slower winter season. By working out the routines now, they expect to reach efficiency levels by late spring.

It didn't take long to realize there is a good market for souvenir glassware, as travelers often collect glassware of craft breweries they visit. Glasses and growlers are supplied by Jym Line Glassware, Enfield.

Wanted to help the local economy as much as possible Rafes Construction, Parrsboro was general contractor; other Parrsboro firms involved were: Harrison's Home Hardware, and Fundy Building Supplies, building supplies; Earle MacAloney, excavation; Nick Meekins Plumbing and Class "A" Septic, porta-pottie. Springhill companies involved include Ross Refrigeration, and Advanced Heating.

Several firms from Amherst were involved: Money's Worth Liquidators; John Baxter Engineering; Eddy Group Ltd, EMCO; J & K Electric and Casey Concrete. Beer Supply Group, Guelph, ON and Canada Malting, Montreal are involved in brewery supply.

Those involved from Moncton included, East Coast Bakery Equipment; Linde Canada and Capital Food Service. Other suppliers included, Westmorland Alarms, Sackville, NB; Just Us Coffee, Grand Pre and Chandler Sales, Halifax.

The brewing equipment was ordered from Stout Tanks & Kettles in Portland, Oregon.

It didn't take long for the 7:00 am fire to engulf the Glooscap Restaurant & Lounge to turn into a raging orange glow. (Shaw Photo)

Please look at this closely - in the area of the black smoke... If you have a sharp eye, and a bit of imagination, near the top of the black smoke, you can see the faint image of a face and hands of GLOOSCAP looking down at the fire. Others say the angle of the face is the same angle as Glooscap's face on the statue in Parrsboro.

Congratulations and Best Wishes

We wish to extend Congratulations to Rising Tide Bakery and Two Island Brewing, Parrsboro on your recent official opening.

We were pleased to have been chosen as the Electrical Contractor.

Good luck and may you have many successful years serving customers and helping promote Parrsboro as a great place to live, work, play or visit.
