

Classic Chevy Club visits Economy

The grounds were immaculate for over 40 members of the Classic Chevy Club for a BBQ hosted by Burchell and Lucia Fulmore, Economy. (Submitted Photo)

Lots of space and a curved driveway provided for a great setting to display some of the antique cars at the home of Burchell and Lucia Fulmore, who hosted over 40 members of the Classic Chevy Antique Car Club in Economy recently. (Submitted Photo)

Doug and Tammy Fulmore, '73 Camaro; Merlin and Ann Marie Dorey, '56 Chev Belair; Deborah and Harold Jardine, '55 Chev Belair; Gerry, Myrna and Cody Matthews, '55 Chev Belair; Joan and Curtis Levangie, '57 Chev Half Ton; Bud and Carol-Anne Lively, '62 Chev Impala SS; Wilbert and Nancy Ball, '57 Chev Belair; Hazel and Gary Porter, '55 Chev Belair; Karen and Lee MacRae, '69 Camaro RS Convertible; Diane and Brent Henderson, '55 Sedan Delivery and Doug and Kim Tidgwell, '68 Camaro.

Club members who attended the event, but travelled in a modern vehicle were: Sharon and Rick Merrill, Mark Fulmore and Jillian Warham, Mike Fulmore and Jeffrey Fulmore, Bev Clark, Basil Walsh and Erroll and Marilyn Pierce.

At the other end of the scale, Chevy enthusiast Jeff Kempton brought his 2010 Camaro.

Several folks going by stopped to view the mini "car show" and were pleased to see the entire fleet of 8 antique vehicles owned by Burchell and Lucia Fulmore, Economy, who hosted the event. The Fulmore's Economy collection includes: '34 Chev Cabriolet Convertible, '57 Chev Belair Convertible, '36 Chev Maple Leaf Dump Truck, '37 Chev Panel, '37 GMC Half Ton, 1952 Chev Deluxe 2 Door Sedan, '39 Chev Master Deluxe Sedan and 1984 Oldsmobile 98.

A special thank you to the Fulmore's for their hospitality from the Classic Chevy Club of Nova Scotia.

Out and About with Ken

By Ken Kennedy

Starting off with a sad note, but you will remember me saying a few months back that Terry Gaudier was seriously ill with cancer. Terry passed away around the end of May and his funeral was held at the Debert Fellowship Center on the 28th with Pastor Dave MacLean officiating. We didn't get to the funeral but apparently there was a good turnout along with a Debert Fire Brigade tribute. We did, however, get to the reception that evening at the fire hall and met with Donna and family. A few years ago, Terry got me some water lilies for my fish pond from somewhere down in Bass River and, by golly, they are up already this year.

Speaking of the Debert Fellowship Center, I was invited to a men's breakfast fellowship there on the 29th. Man alive, can those guy ever put on a classy breakfast. (I hope they invite me again soon!) After the festivities, there was music by Steve McCabe of Belmont, and a gentleman gave a talk about his victory over drugs and alcohol and the faith healing of his daughter.

I finally broke down and got a veteran's plate for my car. I have heard it said - but please don't quote me on this - that there could be certain perks with having a veteran's plate, such as sometime the parking ticket agent might look the other way if a veteran's parking meter time has expired. Also, I heard there are some place in the USA that parking is free if you are a military veteran and/or have a disabled tag - and I have both! We will be traveling in the US this summer on vacation so only time will tell. I will not hold my breath, however!

I have been going to the gym three times a week this month. I need to lose about 20 lbs but so far I don't think I've lost an ounce, but I sure do get a good workout. I met Joan Thompson there one morning. She's been going there for years, she said, even before she moved to town. Cheryl (Churchill) Morrison is my torturer! The thing is I'm beginning to like it! Please pray for me!

Vel attended this year's Relay For Life in Bible Hill with Marina Hill on June 11th. They didn't get home 'till after eleven, so they must have had a good time!

One day last week, the power was off for four or five hours but I never did hear what happened. We did have a couple of windy days there for a while.

Our daughter, Pam, the Halifax hairdresser, turned 37 on the 19th. She's still single, men! (She's going to shoot me for this!). She came home on Sunday and we went down to Granny's for clams and chips. Yum, yum! Of course it was Father's Day and dear old Dad had to pay as usual. What would you expect!? She did give me a nice card though and a large Canada Flag beach towel for my vacation.

As far as Debert Happenings is concerned, I haven't heard too much news except that Doug and Jennie Slack celebrated their sixty-eight (68th) wedding anniversary on June 20th. Can you believe it? They are still pretty spry and never miss a church service at Debert Baptist. Rose Carter had a birthday on the 13th. She lives in a nursing home in Wolfville now, I think. Her daughter Lynn lives nearby. Donna Eastcott went all out with a big 80th birthday bash at the Baptist church on Sunday past. Ida Mae was the driving force behind getting the food ready and the church decorated and such. Donna was surprised to have her son from Calgary drive home for the festivities. There were many other family members there as well.

No sickness to report except for the odd cold. Pearl Wilson is out and about with a spring in her step since her heart operation last month. I've never seen her look so well. She's Susie Taylor's right hand woman and keeps Susie on her toes! Linda Chapman keeps them both well-fed!

It's good to see the West-bound 104 highway being dug up and resurfaced between Truro and Masstown. All hail to our MLA! I just hope they hang on to the stuff they're digging up and laying it back down on some of the rough back roads around here.
