Pulling Up Roots in Bible Hill

In 2010, after having a hair and tanning salon in her home in Debert for 12 years , Owner Michele LeBlanc decided it was time to use her knowledge, skills and expertise to open a hair and esthetics salon in Truro .

In Mid November 2010 "Square Roots" Hair and Esthetics opened. Starting small with 2 staff, Jennifer Bartlett and Jodie Mcnutt, both of whom are still with Michele today, and the shop has grown to include 6 others including Ashley Cormier, Karrie Doyle, Lindsay Robeson, Susan DeLucry, Sara Vidito and Taylor Murphy.

Michele LeBlanc has over 30 years in the Cosmetology industry as a stylist and a former Provincial examiner and inspector with The Cosmetology Association of Nova Scotia.

Michele is thrilled to be moving to a larger, brighter salon space, and are looking forward to adding organic TAN spray tanning.

Square Roots carry lots of retail products at great prices, flat irons, curling irons, blow dryers, Matrix, Moroccanoil, Pureology, HEMPZ lotions, OPI polishes and lots more.

Come and welcome them to their new location beginning July 4th at 84 Main Street (Cavanaugh Building).
