Province Offers Tax Deferral Program

By Maurice Rees

Province offers municipalities a thirty month program to offset disruptions in cash flow from residential and commercial taxes as a result of the Emergency Plan and Covid-19 pandemic. The province has established a one-time property tax installment payment program for owners of residential and commercial properties negatively affected by the COVID-19 global pandemic. Knowing cash flow for municipalities will be disrupted by taxpayer's ability to pay property taxes on normal schedules, a municipality can borrow money from the Municipal Financing Corp at rate of 1.1% and can charge taxpayer a rate of 1.35%. In order to qualify for the program taxes must not be in arrears and owners must apply to the municipality by June 30, 2020.

The repayment covering a total of 30 months is based on payment of $25 per month for six months; followed by monthly payments equal to 1/24th of the balance of the amount eligible for the Program plus interest for the next two years.

The following are not eligible: Owners who have not experienced financial hardship through loss of revenue related to the State of Emergency; have received compensation from Business Interruption Insurance towards the payment of property taxes; occupied by daycare centres in receipt of federal or provincial funding, or in receipt of other emergency funding; used for landfill, pipeline, managed forest, parking, and commercial vacant land; there is an active tax agreement with the Municipality through legislation or bylaw; non-profit organizations that are funded by the Municipality or partially exempted from property tax; and properties managed under payment-in lieu-programs.
