

Lesla Light, right, and Debbie Barclay, volunteers with the Farm Equipment Museum, review the poster highlighting the Hook-In With Fibre Friends event at the Farm Equipment Museum. It's a day of working on needle craft projects, learning new skills and meeting new friends at the Museum on August 3rd from 10am to 2pm. There is no fee, but a donation to the Farm Equipment Museum is appreciated. R.S.V.P to ursulasdesigns@yahoo.ca

Hook-In Scheduled for August 3RD

The Farm Equipment Museum on the Exhibition grounds in Bible Hill is featuring a Hook-in with Fibre Friends on Wednesday, August 3rd from 10am until 2pm. What is a Hook-in you may ask? Not only is it rug hookers, but knitters, crocheters, quilters, felters, weavers, and many types of fibre artists and crafters who are displaying their talents for the viewing public.

If you have been curious about learning a new fibre craft, or updating your current skills to a new level? Then this is a day made just for you. Come, learn, and enjoy. Or are you a fibre artist who wants to promote your craft for others? This is the right place for you.

In addition to learning, there will be door prizes, gift basket raffles, a 50/50 draw, music, and maybe even an antique car or two. All About Ewe Wool Shop as well as The River House Rug Hooking Shop will be selling their wares. And two food trucks, Waffles on my Mind and The Barnyard Grill, will be on site so you can eat while you learn.

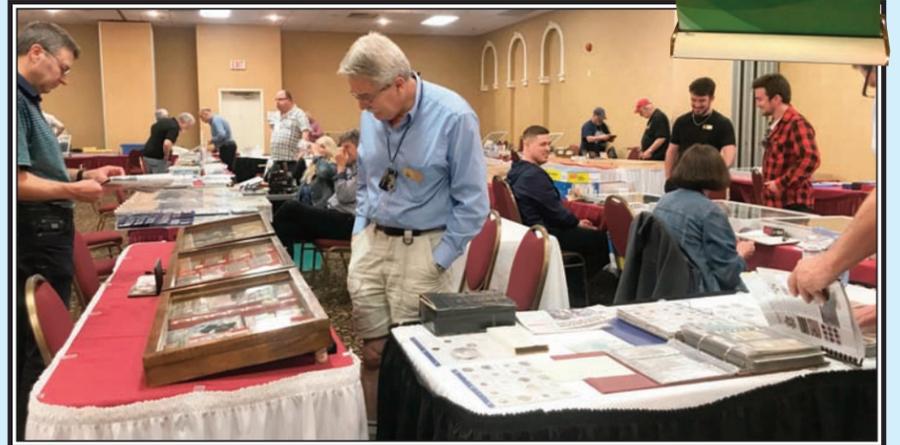

Pray for nice weather but, rain or shine, this event will take place. The museum has a large indoor space where many crafters will set up. There is also a lovely covered verandah, just like all those old farmhouses.

While you are there, all of the regular farm artifacts will be on display. From tractors, and carts, to kitchens, and fancy work, it's all here at the Farm Equipment Museum. Come meet Ruby, aka Nana Moon, who has a summer job sitting by the fire minding the baby. But on this day, she will be monitoring crafters and visitors alike. She has stories to tell!

As always, this is a free event (although donations are always welcome). All of the proceeds are for the Farm Equipment Museum.

The push is on to get as many fibre artists and crafters as possible to participate, there is lots of room. Contact Ursula Gulliver at ursulasdesigns@yahoo.ca for information if interested in featuring your craft.

Coin Show hosted by the Central Nova Coin Club, May 21 - 22, 2022

A large number of vendors from all parts of Atlantic Canada attended the Coin Show hosted by the Central Nova Coin Club, held at the Best Western Glengarry. The annual event gives members an opportunity to trade, upgrade collections and purchase new items from the Auction held on May 21st. The open event on Sunday, May 22nd, provided the public with an opportunity to learn more about the value and fun of coin collecting. (Contributed)

Phil Wambolt, left and Terry Sack, two members of the Central Nova Coin Club and vendors at the Coin Show held at the Best Western Glengarry on Sunday, May 22nd. (Contributed)

Central Nova Coin Club members Joe Merlin on left and Glen Crossman greeted vendors, participants and visitors to the Coin Show hosted by the Central Nova Coin Club on May 21st and May 22nd. (Contributed)

Share your recommendations

The Mass Casualty Commission was created to examine the April 18-19, 2020 mass casualty in Nova Scotia and to provide meaningful recommendations to help keep communities safer in the future. If you have recommendations you would like the Commission to consider around the topics of policing, community and violence—we want to hear them and are accepting Public Submissions.

Visit our website MassCasualtyCommission.ca/PublicSubmissions for more information and to share your recommendations.

You can also email recommendations to info@MassCasualtyCommission.ca or call 902-407-7532 (local) or 1 833-635-2501 (toll-free).