6TH Annual 90 & 90+ Birthday Party

Photos by Linda Harrington

No birthday party is complete without singing, Happy Birthday. Youth curlers, Karlee Burgess, and Janique LeBlanc lead the way, but this one was special. Keith Graham, Port Greville area, was celebrating his 94th birthday on the same day as the party. He was born May 7, 1922 and is the oldest still active architect in Nova Scotia. He just finished plans for the new bandstand in Parrsboro, which he designed as his first job back in the 50's.

Maurice Rees, publisher, presents a commemorative page from the Shoreline Journal, which honours Karlee Burgess for being a member of the gold medal winning team at the 2016 Youth Olympics in Lillehammer, Norway. She went on with Mary Fay to win the World Juniors in Copenhagen, Denmark. Janique LeBlanc, was a member of the Mary Fay team, which won the World Juniors.

Karen Casey, MLA and Tom Taggart, Councillor, District 10, assist Irene Cooke to cut the birthday cake, which was donated by Masstown Market. Mrs. Cooke, born July 22, 1919, was selected to cut the cake, because she was the older person at the party.

Rev. Florence Antle-Brison delivered the blessing at the birthday party.

Each year Masstown Market donates a large cake to be enjoyed at the 90 & 90+ Birthday Party.

NEW 90+ CELEBRANTS

It was Audrey Pratt's first time at the party. She lives in Belmont and turns 90 in September.

George Linkletter, Lr Five Islands enjoyed his first time to the party. He turns 90 in November.

Clifford Graham, Great Village turns 90 in October. It was his first time at the party.

It wasn't Norma's first time at the party. In previous years, she accompanied her husband, Keith. But turning 90 in August, she has been admitted to the birthday club.

It was Evelyn Van Buskirk's first time at the party. She turns 90 in June.
