

Andrew King has been hard at work completing renovations to the new Angel Hearts Chapel across from the Post Office in Debert. The building was originally a Gospel Hall built in 1901 before being converted to a residence around the year 2000. This room will be the main sanctuary for the new Chapel. (Harrington Photo)

the former bedrooms has been made into a mini vestry, with a library built into one of the closet areas. Andrew has cut out a service window in the kitchen, making it a perfect setup for events such as cafes or coffee houses. The large washroom is wheelchair accessible as are the other hallways and rooms in the Chapel.

Andrew and Kimberly have been putting their hearts (and hands) into getting the Angel Hearts Chapel going as quickly as possible. They hope to have a brochure completed soon and they will be holding an Open House once all renovations are completed.

"If there is anyone who feels they are not being fulfilled spiritually where they are, they will be more than welcome to join us. If anyone has an idea, we would love to hear it," says Andrew.

Glooscap Trail 4-H Demonstration Day March 4TH

By Emily Prescott

Members of the Glooscap Trail 4-H club are working hard preparing speeches or demonstrations for their annual public speaking/demonstration day. Members will present a speech or a demonstration to be judged.

The public is welcome to come out and watch them present on March 4th, 1pm at the Bass River hall. It is a fun day to see what our young members will talk about or present. Hope to see you there.

4-H members will be soon selling chocolate bars as a fundraiser to help raise money for our club. We hope for your support with this fundraiser. Next general meeting is March 6th, 7 pm at the Bass River Hall.

Emily Prescott is Glooscap Trail 4-H Club Secretary/Club Reporter

Fuel And Energy Costs Biggest Cost Pressures

Confidence among small business owners in Nova Scotia increased slightly in January, but it continues to lag the rest of Canada. CFIB's Business Barometer Index for Nova Scotia now sits at 58.2, well below the national score of 65.2.

Outside of Atlantic Canada, small business confidence is on a slow climb as it returns to 'near normal' levels. The following are some provincial findings: 29 per cent of businesses in Nova Scotia say the overall state of business is 'good', 50 per cent say 'satisfactory' and 20 per cent say it is 'bad'. Only nine per cent of businesses planning to increase full-time employment, compared to 17 per cent that plan to decrease full-time employment. Nationally, 16 per cent of businesses plan to add to their full-time staff and 12 per cent plan to cut back. Fuel and energy costs continue to be the biggest cost pressures for Nova Scotia businesses with 73 per cent of business owners saying these costs are causing difficulties for their business.

Lr Onslow Community Centre PLANNING WHEELCHAIR ACCESSIBILITY

By Ann Fiddes

February is quickly moving forward, and can't you feel the warmth in the sun, spring is on the way everyone, but I am sure there will be more snow before it arrives.

The Community Centre continues to be very busy, and that is what we like to see. Card parties on Monday night continue to be popular, join us for a good game of 45's, lunch and great fun. Yoga on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday under the leadership of Wanda Henwood is popular, but always room for more. Open Mic on Thursday provides a great night of music, fellowship and maybe a surprise or two. Last week one of our regulars was surprised by her family with a beautiful birthday cake, complete with candles. This cake was enjoyed by everyone. Happy Birthday Marguerite.

A new venture starting in April will be dance classes for children ages 3 to 18. These will be held on Sunday evening, for more information call Katelyn at 986-3456.

For information on the Centre, check out our Facebook page. If for any reason any of our regular activities have to be cancelled, we will have that info on the Facebook page, also on Cat Country.

A new fundraising activity has come our way. We will be selling Booklets of Coupons. These booklets have been put together by CoRDA and offered to non-profit organizations. All Board members will have these booklets, they offer coupons at many local businesses, and you will quickly gain back the price of the booklet when you visit the businesses. Please support us in this venture, which will help in our hope to make the building accessible.

Another Seniors Dance will be held at the Centre on Friday, March 16th. We are limited to 40 people at these dances. If you are interested please call Ethel at 897-4553. Wayne Elliott and his band will be providing music, if you are not a dancer, come and listen.

On April 14th a Children's Clothing Sale will be held. For more information on this call Tara at 896-0072.

The centre's Second Annual Meeting will be held in April. How quickly the first two years have passed, and how wonderful it is to have the support of the community in keeping this building busy. If you are interested in lending a hand in any way, please contact our President Doug at 895-2242 after 6 p.m. There are many ways in which you can help; provide lunch when needed, help in setting up chairs for an event, sweep the floors and the list goes on.
