Maritime Sunsets are a sight to behold. Just outside Parrsboro over the course of two nights I followed the last light of the day, at the seed bins, to be met with an incredible display worth capturing.

For a break in routine, Parrsboro Lions Club enjoyed an outlining and a bite to eat at Davison's Pancake House.

Bill takes over to demonstrate how to finish filling the molds. When the colour starts to turn you have about a minute to get the Maple Cream into the mold. (Lawrence R Nicoll Photo)

The wonderful pancakes, ham, bologna, sausage and beans have not lost their draw or wonderful taste even as Ann and Kerwin Davison enjoy time spent at Davison's Pancake House. (Lawrence R Nicoll Photo)

Community Credit Union Supports Physician Recruitment

By Maurice Rees

The Community Credit Union of Cumberland County (CCU) has provided a contribution of $5,000 to the local Cumberland Physician Recruitment Committee to assist with their operating costs over the next years.

Dr. Janneke Gradstein, chair of the Committee, praised the CCU for their vision and leadership in supporting local physician recruitment. CCU has been a key financial institution in Northern Nova Scotia for over 80 years with branches in both Amherst and in Truro. Because CCU is locally owned, its members/owners, as shareholders, have the flexibility to select the services that suit them.

At the core of Corporate

Social Responsibility at Community Credit Union, is a commitment to investing in systemic change, which comes about by tackling important community issues. "As the provision of quality health care is so important to our communities, supporting local efforts in the physician recruitment process is important to our staff, our members and the community at large," says Howard Welsh, Board Chair of CCU. "We would encourage other businesses and industries throughout the County to step forward and invest in quality health care as part of their Corporate Social Responsibility activities."
