

NOVA SCOTIA 4-H FEATURE

Classic Royal Dairy Winners were (left to right): Andrew Eikelenboom- Hants East Co., Carolyn MacDonald- Inverness Co., Meagan Hudgins- Antigonish Co., Sarah McGilvary- Antigonish Co., Lauren vanZuphen- Inverness Co., Cynthia Campbell- Inverness Co., Abby MacInnis, Antigonish; Sara MacInnis- Antigonish Co. and Ashleigh Benedict- Antigonish County. These 4-H members will be taking their Dairy Projects to the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

Classic Royal Beef Winners were (left to right) Jacy McInnis- Cumberland Co., Connie vanden Heuvel- Antigonish Co., Becky Lowe- Inverness Co., Alex Parsons- Annapolis Co., David Siddall- Cumberland Co., Randy Angevine- Antigonish Co., Kelsey Bonne- Cumberland Co., Breagh Ross- Kings Co., Sarah Morse- Cumberland Co.. These 4-H members will be taking their Beef Projects to the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

Nova Scotia Provincial 4-H Host Alexander Burrows and Hostess Chantel O'Brien were kept very busy over the three day Provincial 4-H Show.

Thomas Harrington piped the parade of dignitaries, including the 4-H Host and Hostess, from the Agridome to the MacMillan Show Centre for the Opening Ceremonies.

Craig Smith, TNR 4-H Club, poses with the winning bidder for his Market Lamb, Barrie MacLean of Clarences Farm Services.

Margaret Condon, Colchester County leader and volunteer, was busy at the NS Provincial 4-H Show Hospitality Booth.

JUDGING: Champion Beef Judge- Megan Robertson, Pictou; Champion Dairy Judge- Kimberly Walter, Lunenburg; Champion Sheep Judge- Reilley Perrins, Kings; Champion Rabbit Judge- Tessa Leonard, Kings; Champion Light Horse Judge- Matthew Bryson, Cumberland; Champion Draft Horse Judge- Rebecca Fraser, Pictou; Champion Miniature Horse judge- Jessica Earle- Cumberland; Champion Goat Judge- Aaron Langille, Colchester; Champion Poultry Judge- Randy Angevine, Antigonish; Champion Waterfowl Judge- Ben Bacon, Cumberland; Champion Dog Judge- Monica vandenHoogen, Inverness; Champion Sewing Judge- Morgan McNeil, Hants; Champion Foods Judge- Alison Holmes, Victoria; Champion Cake Decorating Judge- Patricia Thomson, Cumberland; Champion Crafts Judge- Nicole MacEachern, Richmond; Champion Scrapbooking Judge- Jessica Overmars, Antigonish; Champion Woodworking Judge- Kayla Graham, Pictou; Champion Great Outdoors Judge- Steven Maufort, Victoria; Champion Floriculture Judge- Faith Marshall, Colchester; Champion Garden Judge- Mary MacKay, Cumberland; Champion Photography Judge- Erika Rice, Annapolis; Champion First-Aid Judge- Aiden Jamieson, Cumberland; Champion Small Engine Repair- Julia Bland, Kings; Champion Welding Judge- Ben MacInnis, Antigonish; Champion Computer Judge- Jordan Reid, Cumberland; Champion Poultry Trio- Megan Wright, Colchester; Champion Waterfowl Pair- Sarah Eisnor, Lunenburg.

4-H members are all lined up for the Junior Equestrian Class.

Danielle Stewart, Colchester County, walks her Market Steer around the ring so potential bidders can have a good look.

Dignitaries and guest speakers were welcomed on stage at the Opening Ceremonies for the 2010 NS Provincial 4-H Show.

Miniature Horse Judging was held on Friday evening in the MacMillan Show Centre.

Taylor and Annika Masters, from Clifton 4-H Club, check on the livestock to make sure all is well.

The Market Sheep Auction was an exciting event. Three Colchester County sheep made the auction block where the highest bid was $8.50/pound. Pictured here are Craig Smith, Kyle Kaiser and Thomas Prescott.

Andrew Mikkelsen (right), had the Reserve Champion Market Lamb this year. Steven Vandesande of Straitway Kia, was the winning bidder. Steven was pleased to pose for a photo along with his children James and Anna.

Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture is very proud to support 4H programs throughout the province.

4-H is a great stepping stone for future endeavours and success.

MEET YOUR FARMER.ca

FEDERATION OF AGRICULTURE