Clippers were buzzing and scissors clicking to make sure not a hair was out of place. No, it wasn't a beauty pageant; it was the final day of the Maritime Junior Limousin Show.

This was the first time the Maritime Limousin Association focused their annual Field Day on the junior members, and with the calibre of the 29 who participated, it will no doubt not be the last of such events.

Junior members, ages 6 to 21, from all over Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island attended the event, Sept. 12th and 13th, at Balamore Farms hosted by Joe and Carolyn Cooper. A catered roast beef banquet was held on the Saturday evening for the juniors and their guests, along with "get acquainted session" hosted by Glen Thompson.

The two day event involved points awarded for judging, clipping competition, photography competition, quality of the limousin entry, and showmanship classes with individual awards and a Grand Champion Aggregate winner. Martin Bohrsen, from Saskatchewan, was the judge for the events.

"Overall it was nice to see the juniors getting to know each other and forming friendships," says Carolyn Cooper. "The event was such a success we have been asked to host it again next year, and we are definitely looking forward to it."

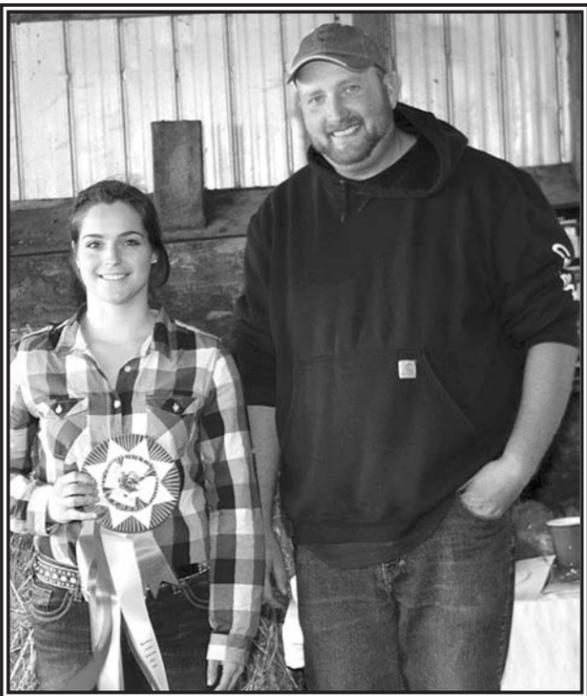

More information on the Maritime Limousin Association can be found at <http://www.maritimelimousin.com/>. John-Calvin Siddle, South Hampton, NS is the current President of the Association.

Keep Safe on Hallowe'en

By Christine Urquhart

Hallowe'en night, October 31st, is always a fun night for the kids!

Please remember to make sure that their costumes are fire retardant and have reflective patches on them. Never let small children trick or treat by themselves!

Always take your children to the different homes in your area and remember to check their treats once they are back home. I remember the fun we used to have with fire crackers when I was young, going door to door with my Dad. In those days folks often had piles of burning leaves in their yards to scent the air with that particular "fall" smell. Dad would throw a few fire crackers into the piles and laugh when they sparked and banged! Dad always checked our treat bags once we were finished and Grandma would take all the apples to make pies with! I don't think anyone gives out apples any more. Such a shame. They were such healthy treats, and affordable, too! Have a Happy Hallowe'en!
