Local 4-H Members To Represent Colchester County at Provincial Show

By Linda Harrington

Glooscap Trail and Onslow Belmont 4-H Clubs will be well represented at the upcoming Provincial 4-H Show. Members from each Club won top honours at the NS Provincial Exhibition recently. These members have earned the opportunity to present their projects in Bridgewater on October 2nd-4th.

Members from Onslow Belmont 4-H Club, who will be going on to the NS Show, include: Emma Eisses (Senior

Best of luck to all these hard working 4-H members as they attend the Provincial Show this fall.

CNTA to be part of larger initiative

Central Nova Tourist Association will be undergoing major changes over the next year, when it becomes part of the Three Shores Destination Marketing Association, comprising existing associations serving Antigonish-Eastern Shore, Pictou, Cumberland, Colchester and East Hants Areas.

Anne Emmett, Chair of Three Shores Destination Marketing Association is pleased to announce the appointment of Andree Gracie as Program and Marketing Director. The Association is the new marketing initiative combining the marketing energies of the Antigonish Eastern Shore Tourist Association (AESTA), Central Nova Tourist Association (CNTA) and the Pictou County Tourist Association (PCTA) opening new opportunities for the innovative marketing of the region's diverse tourism offerings.

A graduate of St. Francis Xavier University, Gracie has over twenty-five years experience in tourism and cultural industries, event marketing and product development. She has held positions with the Cape Breton Tourist Association, Check In Nova Scotia, Trade Centre Limited, Government of Nova Scotia and major events including the East Coast Music Awards, the JUNO Awards and Democracy 250.

"Promoting Nova Scotia is, and always has been a major part of who I am," says Gracie. "I believe in the Three Shores product and look forward to working to develop a new strategy that entices our visitors to stay and enjoy this area nestled between the majestic Atlantic, Bay of Fundy and the Northumberland Shore

- the warmest waters north of the Carolinas!"

It is anticipated that the new Destination Marketing Organization will be launched early in 2010. For more information contact threeshores@gmail.com
