Acadian Celebration

Lawrence R Nicoll - Parrsboro Aug. 10.2024

Acadian Day was celebrated Sat. August 10th with Music, flag raising and a wonderful skit of an original Acadian landowner returning to her home she was deported and meets the new landowner. In the end the new owner asked if there was anything she could do for Marie, who asked if she could have the wooden spoon the new landowner held. It was recovered from the ashes of the barn, and had Marie's name on it. A lot of wonderful Acadian songs, and the skit was outstanding.

Of course, tea, coffee and cake were also on the venue. Everyone had a great time !!

Receiving the spoon. A heartfelt skit of an Acadian landowner returning home to meet the new landowner.
